Voicepath Limited is a provider of network infrastructure and workplace technology to businesses throughout the UK. I am part of the admin team administering internal business support to our designers, project managers, and field engineers.

For admin, fleet management for ten vehicles prior to FleetCheck was laborious and time consuming. We spent time chasing operators for vehicle check reports, looking for vehicle documentation someone else may have responsibility for compiling, and vehicle information was scattered over many files, some hard copy and some electronic.

Documentation of our procedures required by quality management, H&S, and clients kept increasing and we were desperate for a better solution. We went with FleetCheck as we had purchased vehicles from their affiliate FleetFind for many years. We were offered a portal-based solution with easy access to as many fleet records as we would want to store, and the ability to keep them current and accessible by several employees, each with responsibilities over different requirements involving the fleet.

FleetCheck can be set up to remind operators to file their vehicle safety checks via their mobile and has capacity for other reporting that might be required. Individual vehicle records are available in a visual chronological format, sending us email alerts, and reports of data integrity problems which means information needs to be updated.

With the onset of the pandemic, the admin team are all working remotely from home. Having access to the Fleetfind portal allows all of us to contribute information we are responsible for electronically and securely and all of admin has timely access to information they may require. Administering the fleet is one less thing we need to worry about.
